To whom it may concern,

Jeremiah is an organized hard working leader who has my complete trust. As a former naval aviator I have worked with some of the best enlisted personnel in the fleet and I say without reservation, Jeremiah Osterhoudt would be an asset to any command. I have known Jeremiah professionally for the last three months and have worked closely with him on my home remodel. When I hired Jeremiah he was taking over a nightmare job left by a previous contractor. The previous contractor butchered my home, took a year to complete the project, and ripped me off financially. The minute Jeremiah started the project I knew it would get done right; he finished the job on time and right on budget.

Jeremiah has the commanding presence and leadership the Navy needs. Jeremiah Osterhoudt is self motivated, goal oriented, and completely dependable. Jerry will get any job done no matter the size or the complexity. Jeremiah Osterhoudt has my strongest possible recommendation for immediate advancement to Petty Officer First Class and any assignment leading to the rank of Chief Petty Officer.

Respectfully,
